

Rochelle Robinson

Mayor Rochelle Robinson was elected Mayor of the City of Douglasville, Georgia in 2015 in a hotly contested race becoming the first African American and female Mayor in the city's 140-year history. Mayor Robinson was Re-Elected in 2019 with no opposition to begin her second Term in office.

Mayor Rochelle Robinson received her education in the Youngstown public school system and Youngstown State University, in Youngstown, Ohio and the University of Maryland in College Park, Maryland. Mayor Robinson is a Veteran of the United States Army National Guard and professionally has worked in Federal, State, and Local Governments, to include a commendable stint with the Central Intelligence Agency (CIA), in Washington, D. C.

In Georgia, Mayor Robinson has worked for Clayton County Mental Health and served on the Douglasville City Council. She has held several appointments to Boards and Authorities to include Well Star Regional Hospital, West Georgia Technical College, Georgia Fellowship of the Church of God/Credential Committee, Douglasville Zoning Board and Vice Chair of the Douglas County Board of Elections.

In addition to serving as Mayor, Mayor Robinson is currently a member of the Rotary Club of Douglas County and serves on the Douglasville/Douglas County Water and Sewer Authority Board of Directors, Douglas County Economic Development Authority/Elevate Douglas Board of Directors, Douglas County Chamber Governance Council, Douglas County Services Board/Health Board she is Vice Chair of the Atlanta Regional Commission (ARC) Board, ARC's Transportation Air Quality Commission (TAQC), and served on the Georgia Municipal Association (GMA) Training Board, as well as the U. S. Mayor's Association/Water Council.

Mayor Robinson is a proud Silver Star member of Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority Inc. being initiated in the Delta Chapter on Youngstown State University's Campus in 1984. She currently is a member of the Sigma Omega Chapter in Douglasville, Georgia serving on the Connections and Spiritual Oversight Committee and the National Council of Negro Women. Mayor Robinson received her Ministerial ordination from the Church of God Ministries in 2009.

Mayor Robinson has received numerous awards for her community and is a recipient of the President Barack Obama Presidential Volunteer Service Award and Lifetime Achievement Award. Mayor Robinson was awarded Outstanding Georgia Citizen from the Secretary of State, as well as being inducted into Who's Who in Black Atlanta, the Atlanta Business Chronicle Book of List for Influential Top Leaders and The Atlanta Business League's 2020 list of Atlanta's Top 100 Black Women Leaders and is a member of the NCNW/National Council of Negro Woman.

Mayor Robinson has been happily married to Reverend Jeff Robinson for 25 years and they have three children, Joel, Olivia and Ana Robinson.